THE MITCHELL SCANDAL.

The story of Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, leaving a wife in Pennsylvania, changing his name and going West, is already chronicled, together with his defense of the charges against him. Now comes Mrs. Sadie Hipple, the Senator's former wife, whose testimony has been obtained by an industrious correspondent of the Pittsburgh Leader, from whose account of an interview at Franklin with the lady, we copy the following:

Said Mrs. Hipple: I should not tell you my story if I did not feel that it is but in justice to my husband, who had always abused me, that I should not be able to show him that he cannot always triumph. For the sake of my children I would say nothing, but since his story, as told by his lawyer, Colonel Thompson, is published as you tell me, I must speak. Here I gave her in detail the story as told me by Colonel Thompson, in the original interview upon the subject in Butler some weeks ago. She listened with a quiet smile on her face until I had briefly told her the salient points, when she said:

Then that is all the reason Colonel Thompson gave you for my husband leaving me—that our marriage was an unhappy one, and he could not live with me?

Correspondent.—Well, yes, Mrs. Hipple.—I told to me, and I will tell you the real reason, and you can find means from the names I will give to prove all, too. Did Colonel Thompson tell you that when John ran away, taking money that did not belong to him, he took ANOTHER WOMAN AWAY WITH HIM?

C.—No, he omitted to mention that.

Mrs. Hipple.—Well, he did. When he went away he took with him Mary J.

And it was "vertised" in the papers at the time as the elopement of Mary J.—and John Hipple. Well that is God's truth, and she was the cause of the first trouble between me and John.

C.—Tell me about your life previous to marrying Mr. Hipple. Was he forced in Court to marry you for leading you astray?

Mrs. H.—John Hipple was never forced to marry me. If Colonel Thompson says so, he can be proved to be a liar. I was a young girl of only fifteen at the time.

He was twenty-six. He had been my school-teacher. He took advantage of his position and my youthful ignorance (bitterly), and accomplished my betrayal. After that, of my child by him, my father went after him and brought him to my bedside, where I lay. This was all the force about the marriage. My father demanded reparation, that he should marry me. But I said, John, you can marry me or not, just as you see fit. I shall not say "Yes." He then promised to marry me, and did marry me.

C.—Then you deny that the matter was ever brought into the Courts in a suit against Mr. Hipple?

Mrs. H.—Most assuredly, I do. Well, John and I lived together one year happily, when our trouble began.

C.—What was the nature of those troubles?

Mrs. H.—John's running after other women. Of course, you can understand my feelings in this matter. I loved him and was happy with him until he became unfaithful to me.

[Here follows a long story about the first proof of John's infidelity.]

C.—Was Jesse born before or after your marriage?

Mrs. H.—She was born before. She was taken away from me when a little tender thing and I have never seen her since. I heard of her in Pittsburgh when John ran away with her. How she cried and took on for mamma. Since that time John has taught her that her mother is dead and I have never been permitted to hear a word of her. I tried to get a picture of her, but this was refused me by Col. Thompson.

C.—About your other children, Johnnie and Jesse?

Mrs. H.—They are with my sister, Mrs. Dr. Porter, at Sanbury.

C.—Colonel Thompson said Mr. Hipple had contributed regularly to their support?

Mrs. H.—Until three years ago he sent them a cent at the time he sent $300. At the only money he ever sent to the children. I will say nothing here. I will refer you to Dr. Porter, who has charge of the children, to ask him how John has treated the children. I hear that John is thinking of taking away the children and name that they are grown. [Here Mrs. Hipple's eyes filled with tears.] If he should take them away I am sure I should die. I have worked for them, and contributed from my little earnings from time to time, and have tried to do my duty by them so far as lay in my power.

C.—Col. Thompson said the reason of your unhappy marriage with Mr. Hipple was on account of your fondness for society which he could not approve.

Mrs. H.—I never went into society during my married life. I only associated with John. There does not exist the clay-face in Butler who can say anything against my character while I was in Butler.

C.—I never heard anyone say anything against your character at that time.

Mrs. H.—(excitedly)—One of the men who has told you so much about me and slandered my character, his name was —, was the man who, three days only after I was deserted by my husband, and left two small children, one a babe, in my own house tried to get the upper hand of me.

C.—You mean he made improper proposals?

Mrs. H.—Ay, that is what I mean! Col. Thompson, too, who says my husband is so good, came to me after my husband's flight and said he was a grand rascal, as he had stolen away the money of their clients.

C.—About the divorce. Who procured it? Mr. Hipple or you?

Mrs. H.—I applied first.

C.—You say you never received any aid from Mr. Hipple. There is a person in the city who has identified you as a draft from Colonel Thompson. How is that?

Mrs. H.—(reversely)—Oh, I see, I must tell you the whole story. In 1867 I was in Butler. This was at the time of John's first visit. I was at work there. Col. Thompson sent word for me to come to his office, as John wanted to see me. I refused to go. Col. Thompson then came to see me. He asked me if I did not want a divorce. Mr. Hipple wanted a divorce, but had no grounds to get one on. I had, Col. Thompson said if I would only apply for a divorce, and release all claims upon Mr. Hipple, he would pay me $500. I agreed to do this. Mr. Scott, my lawyer, and Mr. Hipple were afterwards present and witnessed the agreement drawn up between us. Col. Thompson always pretended that the money came out of his own pocket. But, of course, that was not highly probable. That explains the draft. That was the only money I ever received after the separation.
